If you're responsible for warehousing and distribution, you're buried in details - fluctuating labor rates, inventory, carrying costs, varied schedules, consolidation, special tariffs, local dispatch, escalating LTL charges. and on, and on, and on. It's enough to make you crazy - unless you're one of our clients.

We're Certified Logistics, a privately owned and operated, non-union public and contract warehousing and distribution company. since 1976, we've handled everything from general consumer products to computer components.

As a third-party logistics provider (3PL), we've never lost a client nor had a single claim against us for damage or loss. Period.

Our modern warehousing and distribution facilities are strategically located around Atlanta, so we can provide the best connections. What's more, thanks to our cost-effective transportation services, you can save up to 72% on LTL shipments.
